Why Mopex Exists

Most organisations already have processes.

Many have policies.

Many have procedures.

What they often lack are structured operational systems that bring together:

- Governance
- KPI Visibility
- Reporting
- Compliance
- Continuous Improvement

Mopex was created to bridge that gap by developing practical frameworks, tools, dashboards, and governance systems that organisations can deploy, adapt, and scale.

Our Founder

Nick Mason | Founder & Principal Architect

Nick Mason is the designer and architect behind the Mopex Operational Excellence ecosystem.

Drawing on more than three decades of operational leadership experience, Nick has developed a suite of scalable frameworks, governance systems, dashboards, and deployment tools that help organisations accelerate improvement without starting from scratch.

His focus is not simply improving operations. It is creating operational systems that continue delivering value long after implementation.

Nick's vision is to build Mopex Consulting into a nationally recognised consultancy, known for its rigor, ROI, and scalable impact.

Our Services to You

To achieve operational excellence, an organisation needs to successfully implement maturity level planning.

The Continuous Improvement Maturity Model (CIMM) is a framework that evaluates an organisation against Lean Six Sigma principles, tools, and techniques, ranging from Level I to Level V. This framework forms the basis for Mopex Consulting's approach to continuously enhancing an organisation's performance.

With Mopex Frameworks, every project starts with a Maturity Score ranging from 1 to 5 in each dimension. The ultimate goal for any organisation is to achieve the highest levels and come as close as possible to perfecting their excellence.

The scorecard uses a 7-dimension format that covers areas like Lean Six Sigma, Quality Management, Health & Safety, and general management practices within your organization.

Your score will highlight key focus areas, and this is where Mopex Consulting and Mopex Frameworks can step in to support you.
